WAYS TO USE IN THE CLASSROOM

Print & Prep – Choose the flower version you need and print the pieces.

Brainstorm First – Use the prewriting pages to organize student thinking.

Write & Create – Students complete petals, color, and assemble flowers.

Display or Share – Use for bulletin boards, hallways, open house, or gifts.

Reflect Together – Invite students to share their flowers with peers or families.

YOU WILL LOVE THIS BECAUSE

Three Crafts for the Whole School Year

Use one resource for back-to-school introductions, spring reflection, and meaningful Mother’s Day gifts without extra planning.

Supports SEL and Growth Mindset

Encourages gratitude, self-awareness, goal-setting, and confidence through thoughtful, age-appropriate writing prompts.

Flexible for Any Grade or Setting

Lined, unlined, and blank options make this craft easy to adapt for primary grades, mixed abilities, or early finishers.

TEACHERS LOVE IT!

I recently used this teaching resource in my classroom, and it exceeded my expectations in every way.

mary claire C.

We did this for our spring showcase night. We enjoyed reflecting on our school year together. Parents enjoyed looking at their child's flowers.

My passion is making learning accessible to all students. I love scaffolding learning, breaking down the concepts and building them up so that students can see the connections. I love figuring out the small components that build up to the big ideas and helping students see it all.
